

Libraries of the world

Toronto-based librarian Thomas Guignard is obsessed with photographing libraries. His global series has taken him to 187 so far, and he says his favourite changes over time. "Right now, it's the Vasconcelos Library in Mexico City [top right]. The shelves look like they're hovering in space." Top of his bucket list is the Vennesla Library in Norway: "A warm, futuristic space I can imagine retreating to during a long winter." thomasguignard.info

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT: SCOTT LIBRARY, YORK UNIVERSITY; ORONTO, BIBLIOTECA VASCONCELOS, MEXICO CITY; WILLIAM W. COOK LEGAL RESEARCH LIBRARY, UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN; JACOB UND WILHELM GRIMM ZENTRUM, HUMBOLDT-UNIVERSITÄT ZU BERLIN